IMMUNIZATION

The Department of Paediatrics Tagore medical college and hospital follows vaccination and schedules recommended by UPI & IAP. In view of competency based medical education as recommended by MCI, clinical and practical approach for the medical students is followed. We train them both theoretically and practically. For the theoretical purposes, we initially take didactic lectures on the basics of immunization, seminars presentations on immunization schedule and awareness and frequently asked questions about immunization. We conduct public Programme on Health care, newborn and children regarding the vaccination during our Breastfeeding Week Celebration and Newborn Week Celebration in which students take part during their clinical postings.

During Clinical postings in the Department of Paediatrics, the students are allowed to observe the administration of vaccination initially before being allowed to handle patients. Both students and CRRI's are given hands on training on immunization under the super vision of an Assistant professor. They are also given training to manage emergency situation and vaccine associated complications.

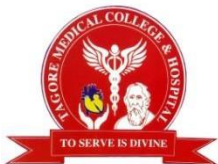

After each administration of vaccine the parents or attender's accompanying the children are counseled about the vaccine related adverse effects and review when needed. Routine immunization timing is between 8.30 am to 3.30 pm on working days.

We get vaccines from the PHC and we deliver them to our patients free of cost.

PHC Vaccines BCG, MMR, OPV HEP-B, PENTAVAC, ROTAVIRUS, IPV, DPT, Hib.BCG and fractional IPV vaccines are given intradermal, OPV and ROTAVIRUS vaccines given orally, DPT, Hep-B, DT, PENTAVAC are given intramuscularly and MMR given subcutaneously.
